

Project Management

Delivering on our promises requires professional Project Management.

What's in it for you? Our Project Management Team is a bridge between LOGSTOR and our customers. We lead by example to secure the most satisfactory result for you and your project.

WE PLAN AND EXECUTE FOR YOUR BENEFIT!

We have established a Project Management Team, which handles both Tender and Execution of large scale and complex projects.

The Project Management process follows an ISO certified process to ensure that all aspects are covered and handled in a professional way.

We have developed a set of tools and guidelines for our Project Managers, who are experienced from different parts of the LOGSTOR organization.

The Project Managers are supported with the needed resources from all other departments and all draw on the experience and competence gained through handling of a range of large scale and complex projects.

Project Management:

- At LOGSTOR, we have established a Central Project Office (CPO), who handles both Tenders and Project management of large scale and complex projects.
- Besides the CPO office in Denmark, we have established a Project Management team, where we have gathered all Project Managers worldwide. This helps us to:
 - Better understand our customers' needs in different areas.
 - Align the way we work with Project Management globally.
 - Use the same documents and methods globally, and make sure we always have well defined and described procedures.
 - To assist each other across borders.
 - Share knowledge globally and make sure we continuously develop and improve according to our goals and expectations from our customers.
 - Ensure that new employees are integrated into the same working methods in a smooth way.
- Our Project Management team follows an ISO certified process to ensure that all aspects are covered and handled in a professional way.
- We strive to have an honest, action orientated and service-minded approach in everything we do, towards customers and towards colleagues.
- We have developed a set of tools and guidelines for our Project Managers, who are experienced from different parts of the LOGSTOR organization.
- The Project Managers are supported with the needed resources through the whole organization and all draw on the experience and competence gained through handling of a range of large scale and complex projects.
- The project team can also include local presences on bigger jobsites.

- A Project Manager will typically:
 - Be the primary contact for the customer.
 - Participate in local meeting at the customer plant.
 - Make sure all stakeholders (Internal & external) in the project are informed and involved.
 - Ensure that we have a delivery plan and make sure we deliver according to the plan. (The right material, the right quantity, in the right quality, to the right time and to the right price)
 - Follow up on open points and make sure there is an action plan to ensure progress in the project.
 - Financial follow up on the project (invoicing, cost, additional sales, and variation orders)
 - Evaluate each project and share lessons learned with the Project Management team.
